IS FIRST TO RETURN

Zoologist of MacMillan Expedition Reaches Copenhagen.

(Special to The Herald)
Copenhagen, May 22.—Professor Alaric C. Tanquary of Chicago, zoologist of the American expedition that set out to explore Crocker Land in 1913, arrived here today from Greenland on the steamer Hans Egede. He was the first member of the expedition to return.

Professor Tanquary reported that the expedition which was headed by Donald P. MacMillan of Maine, had been extremely successful in its scientific work. The other members, he said, had been forced to remain at North Star Bay as the relief ship Chilkut had been prevented by ice from reaching the explorers' base. They probably will be able to get out this summer.

The American Museum of Natural History has contracted by cable with Knud Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, to bring out of Greenland the members of the Donald P. MacMillan expedition, and also the members of the E. O. Hovey party which went to the relief of the MacMillan expedition last year.

BROKEN MILK BOTTLES CUTTING AUTO TIRES

Complaint is made by owners of automobiles regarding some careless milk dealers who accidentally drop milk bottles in the street and fail to pick up the broken glass. This has caused considerable trouble in the way of cutting valuable tires. Drivers should be more careful and remove all fragments of broken glass in the street.

TRIAL BEGUN IN NEW YORK

Dr. Arthur W. Waite, Charged With Poisoning His Wealthy Father-in-Law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids

New York, May 22.—The trial of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, charged with the murder of his father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich., began this morning before Justice Sheehan in the criminal branch of the supreme court. The poison case, first took shape as one of the most sensational chapters in criminology, but within two days it lost much of its mystery, as Dr. Waite when he found himself trapped, surrendered and confessed.

The whole battle ground, so far as the trial is concerned, appears to lie inevitably on the question of Dr. Waite's sanity. Unless the defense takes a wholly unexpected turn the fight will lie between alienists.

Mrs. Clara Peck Waite, the youthful wife of the defendant, will be a witness. According to her own statements in interviews, she married Dr. Waite believing him a genius and a renowned surgeon. She was shocked to find her husband accused of murdering her father and mother. All her love she says has vanished, and she hopes her husband will get the full penalty. Mrs. Margaret Horton, the young singer, whose friendship with Dr. Waite has been disclosed, will also be called. On three questions of the case she will be an important witness—first as to Dr. Waite's sanity, second as to his experiments with germs and poisons, third as to his motives. The question as to whether she was not a powerful motive will probably be settled.

The state is heavily fortified with witnesses and 195 persons are under the state's subpoena and will be on hand tomorrow. More than a score are from Michigan, who will testify regarding Dr. Waite's life in Grand Rapids and Ann Arbor.

The prosecution's alienists are Dr. Menzies Gregory, Dr. William Munton and Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe. The alienist for the defense is Dr. Morris J. Karpas. Both sides expect difficulty in getting a jury.

Five hundred talesmen from whom will be selected the jury to decide the

FRENCH TROOPS MAKE GAINS

Fierce Hand to Hand Fighting in Darkness Under Glare of Bursting Bombs.

(Special to The Herald)

Paris, May 22.—French gains on both sides of the Meuse river were announced today in the war office's communication. Following a terrific bombardment which lasted for days and nights, the Germans attempted to press forward in Avocourt wood, but their advance was checked by the French. At Dead Man's Hill strong counter attacks by the French won back some of the ground lost to the Germans on Saturday night. A night attack by the French in the section of Vaux put the French troops in possession of a German trench. There was fierce hand to hand fighting in the darkness under the glare of star bombs.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT AT RYE

Workmen Falls With Gun Which Discharges; Shot Enters Left Arm.

Anello Russo of Boston, employed on the state highway, is at the Portsmouth hospital as the result of accidental shooting at Rye on Sunday.

Russo went into the woods with a companion to hunt game. He had been hunting but a few minutes when he fell while climbing a wall, causing the discharge of the gun, sending several shot into his left arm between the shoulder and elbow. He was brought to Portsmouth and Dr. Penzance called who succeeded in removing some of the shot from the arm today. His condition is not considered dangerous.

TRIED TO SAVE BOY AND FELL

Michael Lucci Injured Sunday on Market Street.

Michael Lucci, a resident of the North End, met with a bad accident on Sunday in a fall down a flight of stairs on Market street. Lucci was leaving the rooms of the Italian Socialist Club and with him were two boys. As they started to descend the stairs one of the boys missed his footing and was about to fall when grabbed by Lucci. In attempting to save the boy, Lucci lost his balance and pitched headlong to the bottom. Others inside the building rushed to his aid and got him home on Wall street. Dr. Higgins was called and found him suffering from a compound fracture of the lower jaw and other injuries.

INDIANS CLOSE UPON U. S. TROOPS

Alarming Reports Are Received; But Mexicans Claim There Is No Plan to Attack the Americans

(Special to The Herald)

El Paso, May 22.—Four hundred Yaqui Indians the fiercest fighters in General Obregon's Mexican army, were today pressing close upon the American punitive expedition sent into Mexico from the Big Bend district, as the U. S. soldiers withdraw from the border.

The American expedition consists of only 300 men including a machine gun squad, but ready to dash to their aid if the Yaquis should force a battle, are two more troops of the 6th cavalry which arrived at Marathon this morning.

American officers said it was hardly likely that the Indians would make an attempt, but ranchers and truck drivers brought in some alarming reports. One of these was to the effect that part of the main expeditionary force after reaching a point only 25 miles from the border had been summoned to return southward to the place where Col. Sibley had established a sub-base. Mexican officers in Juarez denied the theory that the sudden appearance of the Indians indicated any plan to attack the Americans.

Captain H. L. Evans of the army signal corps, said that he had been told that upon receipt of some information suggesting a Yaqui movement toward the American border, Col. Sibley had turned back to the interior and was preparing if necessary to reinforce up the river.

Marauders cut the army telegraph line between Marathon and the Mexican line in three places last Friday night, according to Captain Evans, who arrived from Boquilla, where he had been directing the erection of the line.

Captain Evans said also that one of the poles had been destroyed at a point about five miles north of Boquilla.

Captain Evans pointed out that if communication is to be maintained between Marathon and Col. Sibley's base at Boquilla, the entire line will have to be patrolled by soldiers.

In view of Friday night's occurrences, this step is absolutely necessary, he added.

The united column, consisting of two troops and a machine gun troop of Eighth cavalry, under Col. Sibley and two troops of the 11th cavalry under Major Langhorne, totals approximately 300 men. This force, plentifully supplied with sustenance and its movements expedited by the addition of motor trucks and automobiles should suffice, according to military men, to combat twice its number on the Coahuila plains where an attacking force must travel for days without food and water.

RAN INTO COAL TEAM

Automobile Owned by Julian De Este of York Harbor, Badly Damaged.

A large touring car, owned by Mr. Julian De Este, a summer resident of York Harbor, while attempting to pass a coal team owned by George D. Boulter, and driven by A. H. Williams, on Post road, Kittery, this morning about eight o'clock, struck the team and then ran into an electric light pole.

The team was not harmed but the automobile suffered considerable damage, the radiator and front mud guards being badly smashed. The transformer on the light pole was knocked down. In the car at the time was the chauffeur and a man passenger, who were returning from this city where they had taken a party to the train.

The accident occurred in front of the residence of Clarence S. Chick, at the junction of the Post road and another road. The chauffeur, it is said, was conversing with his companion and did not notice the coal team which was going in the same direction. The machine was taken to the Kittery garage for repairs.

PORTSMOUTH HIGH DEFEATS LYNN CLASSICAL HIGH

Game Won in Thirteenth Inning When Paul Bailey Slammed Homer to Center Field, Hitting the First Ball Pitched—Final Score Was 5 to 4

Paul Bailey, first baseman for Portsmouth high school, walloped the first ball pitched to him in the thirteenth inning of Saturday's game against Lynn Classical high school, driving Timmons out, Murphy to Evans. Craig the pill into center field for a homer, breaking the tie which had stood 4 to 4 for four innings and bringing in the winning run. The game was one of the longest in the history of high school athletics played in this city, and was interesting and sensational from its opening until broken up by Bailey.

The game was a pitcher's battle with Sullivan of Lynn pitching fine ball throughout the thirteen innings; allowing but nine hits and no free passes. He deserved better luck than to lose so hard a game, but his team mates made five errors which figured materially in the run getting of the local boys. Hodgdon pitched good ball for the nine innings he worked and in all probability could have completed the game with credit had Akerman not been sent in to bat for him in the ninth when a hit would have brought in the winning run. Hodgdon fanned eight of the Lynn batters and gave one base on balls. Spiney pitched good ball although he gave free transportation to several and was in a bad hole a couple of times, tightening up in the pinches and pulling out when a run would have lost the game for him.

The visitors made three fine double plays and the work of Ring at short and Rolland behind the bat were features of the game. Rolland's stand in blocking the plate and taking the throw from Sullivan to get Smith coming in from third in the 12th inning being a play which called for considerable applause from the fans.

For Portsmouth the four work of Timmons at short and Bailey at first excelled.

The Game

1st Inning—Murphy walked and stole second. Coody was fielded out on a fast play, Timmons to Bailey. Walsh sacrificed, Thompson to Bailey. Murphy going third. Ring's hard grounder was stopped by Timmons and he was out at first. No hits, no errors, no runs.

Mulholland reached first on a wild third strike. Thompson sacrificed, Murphy to Evans. Butler hit into a double play, Mulholland going out at third. Evans to Murphy. No hits, no errors, no runs.

2d Inning—Fraler was out at first. Timmons to Bailey. Rolland out on a foul fly, to Evans. Rafferty safe at first on Craig's error on a fly to left; and was out stealing. Smith to Thompson. No hits, one error, no runs.

3d Inning—Bailey reached first on Rolland's error. Timmons singled to right, and Bailey scored on Frazer's ball and throw to the plate. Timmons going second. Craig hit to Sullivan and was safe at first. Sullivan throwing to third to get Timmons. He was safe on Murphy's error. Currier fanned. Smith safe on a fielder's choice. Hodgdon sent a sacrifice fly to Rafferty, scoring Timmons. Craig out at third. Rafferty to Sullivan to Murphy. One hit, three errors, two runs.

4th Inning—Sullivan out. Thompson to Bailey. Evans fanned. Murphy fanned. No hits, no errors, no runs.

Mulholland out on a fly to Rafferty. Thompson out at first. Evans, unassisted. Butler out. Ring to Evans. No hits, no errors, no runs.

5th Inning—Coody out. Hodgdon to Bailey. Walsh out at first. Timmons to Bailey. Ring flied out to Craig. No hits, no errors, no runs.

6th Inning—Bailey out. Timmons out. Murphy to Evans. Craig safe on Murphy's error. Currier forced Craig at second. Ring to Coody. No hits, one error, no runs.

7th Inning—Fraler hit to left for the circuit. Rolland singled and was out at second, stealing. Smith to Bailey to Thompson. Rafferty and Sullivan fanned. Two hits, no errors, no runs.

8th Inning—Smith singled to right. Hodgdon sacrificed, Sullivan to Evans. Mulholland was out at first. Evans, unassisted. Smith going to third on the play. Thompson singled to right, scoring. Smith. Butler flied to Walsh in left. Two hits, no errors, one run.

Mike Gibbons is just about as popular in New York just now as would be the Sultan if he visited Petrograd the week after next. The mere mention of Mike's name in Gotham just now seems to incite the fight fans.

The last three times Mike has fought in New York he has been beaten. The first time it was by a dub scrupper; the second time Puckey McFarland turned the trick and this week it was Ted (Kid) Lewis who triumphed over him. That Lewis beating has disgusted Gotham fans for all time as far as Mike is concerned.

Gibbons took on Soldier Barfield last summer and every one thought it would be a cinch. It was for Barfield, the dub beat the powerful Mike to almost all of his swings. He broke through Mike's guard at will. And he went further. He showed in what contempt he held Gibbons when he spent half of his time mauling Gibbons in his ring attacks, while the crowd howled with laughter.

And then came that Gibbons-McFarland fiasco. The fight almost killed the game in this town. Neither man fully extended himself, yet Puckey was because of his greater aggressiveness. From where we sat it looked as if Puckey was handling three wallopers to one by Gibbons. And Mike the sure puncher was misfiring frequently and acting like a novice.

Ever since that bout Mike has been panned by the New York critics. They declared that either he didn't try to fight or he is through. Mike resented those criticisms. He begged one more chance to display his wares in New York. And he got it—against Lewis. Now Lewis, despite all the diligent press work of Jimmy Johnson is not much more than a second rate welter. He has been beaten by both Jack Britton and Mike Glover. He never has showed anything marvelous in his fights. And so when the Gibbons-Lewis fight was framed everyone felt everyone else what a cinch it would be for Gibbons.

When the men stepped into the ring Gibbons weighed 162 1-2 pounds and Lewis only 143. In other words, a second rate welter spotted the supposedly top-notch middleweight nine and one-half pounds—a terrific handicap.

The ring-side odds were about 5 to 1 that Gibbons would win. He had everything in his favor: height, reach, weight, experience, science—everything that goes to make up a fighter. And Lewis, the second rate, beat Mike Gibbons in that fight. He took everything Mike had to offer in the early rounds. He let Mike try out his famous wallop on his jaw and merely grinned when they landed. He acted as Mike's punching bag for the first three or four rounds. And then he went after Mike. He broke through Mike's so-called "impregnable defense" and landed it well. He forced the fighting and he forced Mr. Gibbons to back up time and time again. He turned aside most of Mike's punching during the latter part of the battle—and he made Mike look like a novice. The non-partisan fans in New York are of the opinion that Mike is done. That he has shot his bolt and no longer can be classed as a headliner. They point to the Barfield, McFarland and Lewis fights to support their claim that Mike was headed. The Gibbons enthusiasts, however, still claim that Mike ranks as the best middleweight in the land and that he didn't lose Lewis in a decisive way merely because he didn't extend himself.

"What is the explanation," asks a Buffalo fan for the flying start the Senators and Phillies make each season? Each year during the last five or six, both teams have shot under the barrier and taken a big lead. Yet he at once except this year, both clubs slipped down."

The answer seems to be Walter Johnson and Grover Alexander plus postponed games. Inclement weather during April and the first part of May causes many postponements. Johnson and Alexander usually open a series. If it rains during the next two or three days they open the following series. Both stars were every fourth day no matter how often—or how infrequently—the other pitchers operate.

Thus it will be seen that the pitching staffs of both these clubs, during the first month consist very largely of one star pitcher—or a hurler who usually can win two-thirds of his games.

EXETER CREWS WIN TWO RACES FROM MIDDLESIX

BOTH FIRST AND SECOND CREW RACES TAKEN BY NEW HAMPSHIRE SCHOOL OARSMEN ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Exeter, N. H., May 20.—Over a half-mile course on the Squamscott Saturday afternoon the Academy first and fourth crew defeated those of Middlesix School.

The latter's first four got the jump and led for half the course when Exeter overhauled her, winning by half a length in 2m 43s.

Middlesix was shown over the course Saturday morning and given full directions, but her second crew took the wrong course and on a second start cut across the flats, not rounding one flag by rods. It was consequently Exeter's race in 2m 52s. The crews comprised:

Exeter First—Capt. Duncan, bow; Jacobus, 2; Bronson, 3; Welner, stroke; Emmott, coxswain.

Middlesix First—Peale, bow; Capt. Hagerman, 2; Keays, 3; Mellen, stroke; Pelron, coxswain.

Exeter Second—Porter, bow; Eustis, 2; Hanson, 3; Eaton, stroke; McCarter, coxswain.

Middlesix Second—Denton, bow; Sloss, 2; Wright, 3; Brown, stroke; Mellen, coxswain.

Judges, Coach Howe of Middlesix and Wimpup E. Blake, Starter, Corning, Exeter, N. H.

LEMKE-FOSS

SEAMAN OF THE U. S. S. WASHINGTON TAKES BRIDE IN ROCHESTER AND WILL RESIDE IN THIS CITY.

Miss Elizabeth Gertrude Foss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Foss of Rochester, was married at the home of her parents on Saturday evening to Arthur R. Lemke, a seaman attached to the U. S. S. Washington. Mr. Lemke is a son of Lieutenant A. E. Lemke, U. S. A., stationed at Washington, D. C. Elmer Wilder of Springfield, Mass., was best man at the wedding and Miss Ruby Foss, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Following the ceremony a reception was held. After a short wedding trip the young couple will reside in this city.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN" FOR HIPPODROME SICK FUND.

There is to be an all-star revival of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." It will be cast by the players at the Hippodrome and conducted for one performance only, the last week in May and the receipts will go to the Hippodrome Employees Sick and Vacation Fund. The performance will not be at the Hippodrome and the seats will be distributed exclusively through the members of the organization, each one being limited to two seats, which they may use themselves or dispense with. No seats will therefore be on public sale. Total, the clown, will be cast for little Eva; Nat Willis, as Topsy; John Philip Sousa will play Uncle Tom and Charles T. Aldrich, will impersonate Simon Legree. Charlotte will play Eliza crossing the ice, without skates but with a German accent. The elephants will replace the bloodhounds, and other liberties will be frequently taken with the script of the favorite classic.

GOETHALS STILL UNCERTAIN

Washington, May 20.—Gov. Goethals of the Canal Zone still is unable to fix a date for reopening the canal. He has advised the War Department that, although the slide has been removed sufficiently to permit the passage of vessels drawing 20 feet, he has decided to postpone the formal opening until 30-foot yachts can be passed.

Barry was a pugilistic sensation a few years ago. Then he contracted the cocaine habit because a San Francisco doctor used it while treating his injured hand. Barry broke himself or the habit nearly a year ago, has been conditioning himself gradually since then and figures he is about ready to fight again.

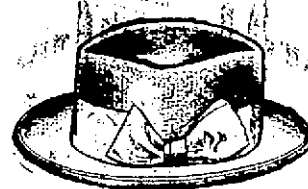

Mac Eason, whose amputating always has been chased as "atrocity" always has improved (this year) his decisions in many of the games in which he has figured in New York and elsewhere in the east has provoked harsh criticism.

And in the meantime, Bill Brennan, ranked as one of the best umpires in the league implied ever procured for many years, is jobless? Why? Well, you'll remember O'Casey, that Bill committed a heinous crime. He quit organized baseball and became "chief of staff" for the "Feds."

Detroit boxing promoters have chartered a barge for use each Monday night during June, July and August and will conduct bouts aboard. The boat will cruise up and down the river between 9 p. m. and midnight and the fight will be staged on the upper deck between 9:15 and 10:30. After that the space will be cleared of the ring and dancing will follow, ladies being permitted on board the boat.

STATE GOLF ASSOCIATION ELECTS PORTSMOUTH MAN

Annual Meeting of Directors on Saturday Names Jackson M. Washburn President of New Hampshire Association—Meeting Followed by Tournament and Dinner

Jackson M. Washburn, president of the Portsmouth Country Club, was elected President of the New Hampshire Golf Association at the annual meeting of the directors, on Saturday. The meeting was held at the Portsmouth Country Club, presided over by President J. C. Marshall of Manchester. Mr. Washburn, who was vice president of the state association, was elected President on the first ballot.

In Mr. Washburn the state Association has an officer who will undoubtedly prove one of the most efficient and active that it has had in its history. He has been president of the Portsmouth club for two years and his untiring work has been one of the factors in the club's steady growth. His election to the high honor by the directors is a substantial endorsement by the men who so well know his qualifications for the office.

The other officers elected for the year are:

Vice president, F. L. Keay, M. D., Rochester; secretary and treasurer, J. J. Steward, Concord; executive committee, W. E. Carter of Rye Beach, J. C. Marshall of Manchester, W. H. Roberts of Dover, W. L. Swart of Nashua.

Following the election of officers the meeting chose as the course for the annual state championship tournament the Abenaki Golf Club at Rye Beach, one of the best championship courses in the state.

After the meeting an invitation handicap tournament was held over the Portsmouth course, open to all members of the state association. Twenty-seven contestants participated in the medal tournament which was won by Richard D. McDonough of the Portsmouth Country Club, with a net score of 73. Everett M. Fisher, also of this city, was second with a net score of 74. A silver cup, presented for the occasion by President Washburn, was awarded Mr. McDonough at the dinner which followed in the evening at the club, the lobster supper being prepared under the direction of Steward Patrick of the Warwick Club.

KAISER LEAVES WAR FRONT FOR FOOD CABINET CRISIS

Berlin, via The Hague, Sunday.—Emperor William has suddenly returned to Berlin from the front to settle the Ministerial crisis that arose over the question of dealing with the food problem in Germany.

His arrival was kept almost a secret and he did not even go to the royal castle, preferring to stay at Potsdam, where he had an important conference with Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Imperial Chancellor, and Dr. Karl Helfferich, Secretary of the Imperial Treasury. The Emperor is expected to leave Berlin for the Russian front as soon as the crisis is over.

It is believed that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg and the Emperor discussed the appointment of new Ministers. The Tagblatt states that the list of "new men" has been decided on finally and the announcement of their appointment will be made shortly.

The scheme of food dictatorship, which will be submitted to the Bundsrat tomorrow for approval confers power on the Chancellor to confiscate all foodstuffs, apportion it and regulate the price.

London, Sunday.—Although the Austrians have made important advances in their big offensive against the Italian lines, they have paid dearly in men for their successes, according to a Rome despatch today. The Italians are reported to have taken several thousand prisoners and large quantities of munitions. The fighting continues fiercely, some of the isolated battalions making places and positions.

heights far above those on which any previous combats have been fought.

A total of 12,257 prisoners have been taken since the battle began, according to the Vienna statement. Guns to the number of 107, with twelve 28-centimetre howitzers and sixty-eight machine guns, are reported to have been taken as well.

Paris, Sunday.—There has been fierce and continued fighting on the entire Verdun section west of the Meuse, particularly around the positions at Road Man Hill. Following a heavy bombardment the German infantry made several attacks. East of the heights they succeeded in entering the first line trenches but were driven out again in a savage hand to hand combat with bayonets.

Tear Makes New Advance in Caucasus.—Petrograd, Sunday.—An entirely new Russian advance against the Turkish forces defending positions in Mesopotamia is described in official despatches from the Caucasus front. Another Russian army is moving through a point between the two groups originally advancing into Turkish territory.

Already the new army has captured Bana, a town only five miles from the Mesopotamian border, and Sakks, a village in Persia. The Turks are reported as continuing their stubborn resistance, but finally being compelled to fall back.

One Russian army already has crossed the Persian border into Mesopotamia and is moving on Mosul. Another remains in Persia, about one hundred

NEW YORK'S GREAT PREPAREDNESS PARADE PASSING REVIEW STAND.

MAYOR JOHN PURROY MITCHELL. GENERAL LEONARD WOOD.

More than 140,000 marched in New York's great preparedness parade Saturday, May 13. That means more than one-fourth the entire voting population of the city thought so much of preparedness that they were willing to make this demonstration for it. It was said to have been the largest parade miles north of Baghdad. It is believed that the third army's operations will increase greatly the likelihood of taking Baghdad this spring.

Russian military observers pay high tribute to the valor of the enemy in defending the positions already taken. The Turks fought with fatalistic desperation at Serinal-Kerind, where the entire garrison is said actually to have died fighting. The Russian army swept onward toward Khankim.

It is announced here that the insurgent movement instigated by German agents in Persia has been overcome completely. This will permit reinforcements to be sent the Russian army on the Mesopotamian border.

Home Rule for Ireland at War's End.—London, Sunday.—Realization of the long sought ideal of a fully representative and harmonious Irish Parliament is in sight. The Premier, Mr. Asquith, after an interview with the King is said today to be ready to recommend to Parliament that the affairs of Ireland be directed until the close of the war by a Cabinet composed of leading nationalists, unionists and non-partisans, with a view to the institution of an Irish Parliament when peace has been declared.

Much depends on the agreement of John Redmond and Sir Edward Carson. Sir Edward is reported to be ready to accept an Irish Parliament if Mr. Redmond and his followers will not resist the extension of the compulsory military service law to Ireland.

J. L. Galvin, in the Observer, suggests that Sir Edward and his friends approve a proposal for a Parliament meeting alternately in Dublin and Belfast for the management of common Irish affairs.

"On such terms there will be in a few years an Irish Parliament for one Irish nation," he says.

COMMISSION REPORTS ON MARTIN'S ELECTROCUTION

Augusta, Me., May 21.—The Public Utilities Commission on Saturday rendered a decision in the matter of the accident resulting in the death of Robert B. Martin of Elliot, a motorman on the Atlantic Shore Railway, who was electrocuted under peculiar circumstances at Kennebunk on the ninth of this month while telephoning, which states that it is the belief of the commission that Martin must have had his hand on some of the metal connections of the telephone and at the same time was attempting to throw a switch in the booth to cut in on the telephone circuit. The commission recommends that the Atlantic Shore Railroad take precautions similar to those taken by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, and other public service corporations to have their telephone lines protected before they go into the ground at the telephone booths and again at the offices. The report of the commission on their findings is one of great length, and gives in detail the circumstances of the death by instant electrocution of young Martin. They believe that the full current of 11,000 volts from the high tension wires coming from the York Power station of the road passed through the man's body.

The report in part, follows:—"The investigation showed that at a point between the Town House and the box where Martin was killed, a large ash tree grew very near the pole line so that when the latter was built, the lower outside wire was moved in on the cross arm so that it was directly under the top wire, while generally the top wire is above a point half way between the two lower wires. The pole in this vicinity was set in soft earth, and on the day of the accident a strong wind was blowing, and undoubtedly the sway of the pole and the sway of the wire permitted this top wire to make a sufficiently good contact with the tree to effect a ground."

"Undoubtedly as soon as this was done, a fire started, and this wire melted apart and fell into the telephone wire. Martin was killed about 3.31 or 3.32 and about 3.35, the car dispatcher at the Town House, states, a fuse burned out on the telephone line, and investigation showing that the trouble was not caused by the power line of the railway, he gave instructions to have the switch pulled on the York County Power company's line (this latter company being an electric utility serving various towns in York county). The general manager, upon being notified of the trouble, also arranged to have the power of the electric light company cut off at a place known as Old Falls, but it is evident that before either of these cut-outs was accomplished, Martin had reached the telephone box, touched some metal part of the instrument as he threw the switch in, and instantly received the full force of the 11,000 volt current.

"The accident was unusual; nothing of its kind has ever occurred to our knowledge, within the state, and it may be that no similar accident will ever occur again. However, no precaution which can reasonably be taken to prevent a recurrence should be omitted, and we find upon investigation that the New England Telephone & Telegraph company, and we believe all other public service telephone companies, have their lines protected at the telephone before they cut into the ground, and again as they go into the office of the company.

"We believe that this same sort of protection should be accomplished by the Atlantic Shore Railway so that where high tension wires are on the same pole as telephone lines, each telephone should have proper protection for the person using the telephone, to stand on. We make this as a recommendation, and require the Atlantic Shore Railway company to report to us within 15 days whether or not it accepts the recommendation, and its intentions thereunder if the same is accepted; and that when it has completed any acts looking to such protection, it report thereon to this commission, such report to be made not later than August 1, 1916."

WIFE DESERTERS DOING ROAD WORK IN CALIFORNIA

Washington, D. C., May 20.—Road work affords a means of making the family desecrate support his wife and children. California by statute provides that deserters and other inadvisable persons shall be worked by the counties upon the roads and a sum not exceeding $150 per day be paid to their dependants for the work.

Miss Beatrice McCall of the Woman's Protective Bureau of Oakland has reported to the National Committee on Prisons that Los Angeles and Sacramento counties are enforcing this provision and employing their prisoners in road work. The bureau is endeavoring to have the statute enforced in Oakland county.

The movement to work county prisoners on public roads is also gaining ground in Louisiana.

New Orleans passed an ordinance in 1907 providing for such work. Other counties have leased their prisoners under the lease system abolished as far as state prisoners are concerned by the constitution of the state. W. O. Hart, president of the Louisiana Prison Reform Association, has informed the National Committee on Prisons that the association is introducing a bill into the next session of the legislature to abolish the lease system even for county prisoners and extend the New Orleans system to other counties.

Kalamazoo County, Michigan, added the county of tramps by establishing road camps for county prisoners. Salem county, New Jersey, found the road camp a means of overcoming crowded conditions in the jail. Georgia finds road work a successful means of employing practically all her county prisoners.

The movement for road work for short-term prisoners given impetus by the National Committee on Prisons, is extending from county to county. Soon the old idleness and degradation of the county jail will have given place to health work on the roads, with wages which will keep many a family off the charity list.

JOSEPH REFUSED TO RETURN HATCHET

SO SAM HAS HIM ARRESTED ON A LARCENY CHARGE AFTER HEAVING THE WEAPON AT JOE'S DOG.

Judge Ernest L. Gupilli, of the Municipal Court, is a pretty busy man just at present and he has announced that he will call court this morning at 9.00 o'clock. He has a couple of cases to be heard that will probably take him some more than the one hour he has planned to devote to this work. One is an assault case with a couple of the Polish residents of the city as the principals and a score or more of witnesses which will call for a few interpreters. If this case isn't continued for a couple of days then we are guessing wrong.

A few weeks ago Judge Gupilli was tied up for several days over a case of larceny in which a pair of rubber boots figured. The alleged culprit in this instance was one Joseph Smith. Joe is again in the cooler and again the charge is larceny. This time the trouble is over a hatchet, valued at $10.50 and the property of one Samuel Harris. The story, as told last evening at the police station, follows:

"Joe owns a dog and as the canine is one well trained for hunting, he is valued highly by his master. Joe and Sam are near neighbors and Carlo has a bad habit of running across the property of Sam. Sam lost his temper on Saturday and fired a stone at Carlo. His aim was poor and the dog escaped to his own territory. Sam renewed the attack using on the second offensive, the hatchet, which naturally landed on Joe's property. Joe took the hatchet into his house and refused to return it.

Sam walked to the station and had a warrant sworn out for Joe, charging him with the larceny of the hatchet. Result: Joe is a prisoner in the Chapel street lodging house until Judge Gupilli gets through with him.

Chapter two.—Joe, not to be outdone is going to have a warrant sworn out against Sam—at least he says he is—charging him with cruelty to animals. The stone which he alleges Sam have at the pup is part of the evidence and is being held at the station. The questions which Judge Gupilli will be called upon to decide will likely be these:

1st.—If Joe found the hatchet on his own property and keeps it, is he stealing it? 2d.—If Sam missed the dog on both shots was he cruel to him or not? 3d.—Can Sam have Carlo arrested for trespass for crossing his property when he didn't have any signs up forbidding such crossing? There may be some more as in the case of the rubber boots but there is little use in anticipating them.

On Saturday Judge Gupilli ordered Carlo Chick to pay a fine of $10.00 and costs of $6.15 after finding him guilty of violating the school law.

Saturday night the police had a full house with seven drunks, three lodgers and one man held for safe keeping. Sunday Joe had the cell room all alone, no other arrests, being made up to midnight.

Is Leniency Overdone?

There are many who are seriously questioning whether leniency toward offenders against the laws is not being carried too far, with results more harmful than beneficial. Probation, suspended sentences, parole and pardon have become so common as to seem to almost have become the rule in dealing with petty and serious violations of the laws, and it is a question whether this policy is not having a bad effect on the classes that are disposed to ignore the laws.

No reasonable man or woman demands undue harshness in dealing with law breakers. In the punishment of criminals the public does not call for revenge, but there are many who feel that the time has arrived when it should be made plain that violation of the law is a serious thing and that there should be a little more seriousness in dealing with those who violate the law. The danger of leniency when carried too far is that it is liable to be regarded by the criminal classes as a sign of weakness rather than an effort to cure by kindness, and to the extent that this view obtains it is bound to work harm.

In his talk before the National Press Club in Washington the other day President Wilson intimated very plainly that punishment which culprits can understand still has its uses. He was speaking of dealing with the nations and illustrated his point by saying: "If I cannot retain my moral influence over a man except by occasionally knocking him down, if that is the only basis upon which he will respect me, then, for the sake of his soul, I have got occasionally to knock him down."

The point is clear. It is that punishment is something which, to be effective, must be understood by the punished. It must be recognized as something that hurts, something the repetition of which will be studiously avoided. There are cases in which leniency is proper, but it is a question whether it ought to be the rule to such an extent as it has come to be. There are so many instances in which it fails to produce the desired results that it sometimes seems as if the punishment of criminals is becoming more or less of a farce, and this is a dangerous thing. When it is understood that the law does not mean what it says we are on dangerous ground, and the course of so-called justice today is such as to encourage among the dangerous elements a belief that the law does not mean what it says. The condition is one that calls for a remedy.

The Confederate veterans have offered their services to the government in case of a pinch. This is very loyal and patriotic, but they will not be called upon. There are enough young men in this country to defend it and they will be forthcoming if the need arises. And the United States is not yet at war.

"As goes New York, so goes the country." The preparedness parade held in the metropolis is to be imitated by many other cities, and before the hurrah ends there will probably be one in every cross-roads village in the country. All of which will help to make it easy for Congress to ladle out fat appropriations.

A dispatch from Paris says there are soldiers from twelve countries in the ranks along the west front. They are Englishmen, Irishmen, Scotchmen, Welshmen, French-Belgians, Russians, Hindoos, Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, Algerians and Germans. It might be added that there are also a few Americans scattered along the lines.

W. H. Moore, founder of the five and ten cent store business, has just died at Watertown, N. Y., at the age of 74 years. It is a mighty business that he originated, one whose growth has been little less than phenomenal. This is an age of big things, and the five and ten cent store is one of them.

The Ford peace party is still busy in Sweden and has come to be recognized as the "unofficial peace conference of neutral nations." But high as are its motives, there is little prospect that it will bring about peace among the nations or make Mr. Ford president of the United States.

A coal journal considers an increase of seventeen cents in the cost of mining coal no justification for raising the price fifty cents a ton. But more money will have to be handled, and it must not be forgotten that in this age it costs to do business!

Lightning has already done serious damage in some parts of the country this season, but conditions are not very favorable for its operations in this section just at present. Overcoats and mittens are more in evidence.

PEOPLE SHOULD EAT BUGS

Scientists Claim That All Except Humbugs and the Baseball Kind Are Good for Food.

Washington, May 22.—Insect broths, beetles in a mode, larvae lachnosteron on toast and white grub salad are possibilities of the hotel menus of the future.

Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the Bureau of Entomology of the Department of Agriculture, says there is no reason why people should not eat bugs—excepting the baseball kind—other than because they don't do so now. Dr. Howard contended this news to the Washington Biological Society at the Cosmos club. Several scientists present declared that insect broth was very appetizing.

The subject came as a result of inquiries as to what hungry humans were going to do if the available food supply kept going up. As far as could be ascertained Dr. Howard's remarks applied to all bugs except humbugs and the aforesaid baseball variety.

PEOPLE and THINGS

Charles E. Woods, Cadillac and Chevrolet agent, is a hustler, and as the pioneer automobile agent in this section he gets the pace for the others. He left for New York with two men on Tuesday and arrived there Thursday with three new Chevrolets, bringing them over the road. As Cadillac agent in this territory he is known throughout the state and the entire section of Maine. Charlie knows an automobile from the bumper to the tire rack.

The increase in water rates has hit the laundries a hard blow, which has as a result fallen upon the common people who will be forced to pay an increased price for laundry work. The advertising columns of this paper already tell the story of an increase in wet washes from fifty to sixty cents.

One cannot regard his or her life of any great value when passage is taken on some of the unsafe looking jitneys that are running out of Salisbury Beach. It is evident that the patrons do not consider any liability on the journey. The writer in touring from Haverhill to the beach observed one of these dilapidated looking vehicles in a mishap with other machinery. In a collision with an ordinary sized auto or truck there would not be a fragment left as large as a silver dollar. With the other safe means of travel it does not seem possible that women and children would risk their lives on some of these so-called jitneys.

Bangor, Maine, has declared war on lunch wagons. It is claimed that they produce unfair competition to the regularly established restaurants. The city government has decided to remove lunch carts from the public streets. The fight has been a bitter one and has attracted many of the prominent citizens of that city.

Local golfers are going to have an opportunity to play with and witness Francis Welbert at the Country Club on July 2. He is coming here as the guest of local friends on that date, and will establish a record at the course.

The formal opening of Hampton and Salisbury beaches took place on Sunday and Portsmouth was there in force. Many big improvements have taken place in both places, and there is much of interest even this early in the season.

Electric railroads should improve their running time. It would seem as though trolley cars ought to be operated with as much degree of safety as motor cars. It is sad to see some of the lightly constructed automobiles that tear over the road at forty miles an hour can offer. The public want to get into the country quickly and safely. Good and frequent service will bring results.

NOTICE.

Owing to an advance in price of from twenty to three hundred per cent in materials used by us and an increase of one hundred per cent in water rates we are forced to raise the price of our wet wash from fifty to sixty cents, and large washes in proportion. This increase will go into effect May 29, 1916.

CURRENT OPINION

I make no secret of my belief that the United States should address itself to the task of an adequate defense against armed invasion or unbearable aggression. I would like to see every man and boy of proper age possessed of the training that would enable him to become a fit defender of democratic institutions in time of need.

But there are other enemies than those that international misunderstandings may bring against us. There is other fighting to be done than that which calls for sacrifice of life on battlefields.

Is it any less shameful for a citizen to stay away from the polls where the destinies of the nation are decided, where great issues upon which hang the welfare of the city, state and nation are to be fought to the conclusion, than it is for him, when called to defend the nation's honor, to stay at home out of a selfish refusal to incur the danger?

be a bad idea for the Boston & Maine to scale the pay down among the big salaried officials and give these employees enough to live on and bring up families, inasmuch as the larger per cent are married men. This is provided the company feels that the finances will not warrant a raise in wages for these underpaid men."

PEOPLES' OPINION

Key West, Fla., May 13.

Editor: My attention has been called to the article in your issue of April 21, 1916, in which one of your subscribers after spending one night in this beautiful city describes it as the "most undesirable spot" and asks the prayers for any naval officer or man ordered here, and who speaks of "a night of terrible suffering from the heat."

Of course you cannot expect much from an opinion formed between sunset and sunrise, but Key West is most certainly not an undesirable spot from my point of view. I have heard of no one anxious to be ordered away from here, but many who want to stay and the weather bureau will prove that no one could suffer from the heat during April unless they were tied to a boiler, as the temperature was never higher than 74 and as low as 53.

There are many people here who were born in Portsmouth or who suffered there because they could not get away and several who read the article in The Herald have expressed themselves on the unjust criticism of a disgruntled tourist.

Key West has a fine harbor and a fine naval station, the public schools are the equal of any and in addition several excellent private schools, one being the Convent of Mary Immaculate, conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Name, which school has a national wide reputation and pupils from almost every state.

Key West has many miles of paved streets, excellent street car service, electric plant, gas plant and water works. For the tourist there is the turtle rock, where hundreds of large turtles may be seen, the turtle factory, the only one in the United States; the sponge docks where sponges are brought in, cleaned and prepared for shipment; the cigar factories and the Key West brand of cigars are as famous as Cuban; the fish market docks where fish of every kind and description can be seen.

Come again, Mr. Tourist when your thermometer is below zero and come in the daytime, so we can see you and you can see Key West. P. S.—We haven't any Pierce ball, but we have "La Roca" where one may enjoy the ocean breezes, roller skate, dance, listen to the music, go bathing or enjoy the movies.

PETROGRAD TROOPS OUT TO BESIEGE ROBBERS

Petrograd, May 17.—A trio of desperadoes have for the moment succeeded in diverting a certain amount of Petrograd's attention from the war.

In broad daylight they made an armed attack on a cab in which $20,000 was being conveyed to one of the factories in the northeastern industrial quarter of this city to pay wages.

The money was in bags and was in charge of a clerk and a boy. The man was killed on the spot by a revolver bullet and a bag containing $2,000 was snatched from his relaxing hands and the boy escaped unhurt and ran to the nearest police station.

Two of the robbers kept firing and made off pursued by an ever-increasing crowd and firing right and left at all who threatened to obstruct their path. A mounted constable and a soldier who tried to stop them were both seriously wounded.

Finally the desperadoes were hunted down into the big courtyard of a factory and took refuge in the first building they saw, which happened to be the gardener's cottage. Here they found two women and a couple of children, whom they locked up in the back rooms.

Then they turned to the front windows and opened fire on their pursuers, lying down on the floor and only peering over the sills to take aim. The police tried to approach the house under protection of shields, but in spite of their precaution two of them were badly wounded.

In order to bring the fight to an end as soon as possible and with a small loss of life a company of the guards were called in from the neighboring barracks. Meanwhile, some of the police, armed with magazine pistols made their way round to the back of the cottage and breaking in the windows liberated the terrified women and children.

It was decided to force the desperadoes out of their sanctuary by heat and smoke, and the doors and window frames were drenched with kerosene. The thieves, realizing their situation getting hopeless, sacrificed their booty in an attempt to open out to themselves a way to freedom. Instead of bullets they flung from windows handfuls of money. However, the general scramble in which they hoped to make good their escape did not take place and in due time a match was set fire to the house.

Hardly had this been done when two isolated shots were heard and then all was silent. The police presently entered the premises, and found that both robbers were dead, having blown out their own brains.

The hotels and cafes did a rushing business yesterday taking care of the many automobile visitors who stopped in the city for dinners and lunches.

The summer hotels and the railroads are advertising New England as a vacation land in all of the magazines, its up to the weather man now.

Memorial masses were held on Sunday at the Boston and the League Island navy yards.

COURT HOUSE IS COMPLETED

Carroll County Gets a Fine New Brick Building at Ossipee.

Ossipee, May 22.—The new Carroll county court house is completed and a session of superior court will be held there next Tuesday for the first time, Judge Robert Chamberlain presiding.

The building is two story, 31 feet, 4 inches by 65 feet, 3 inches and built of brick, with Indiana limestone trimmings. It was erected by the Wallace Building Company of Laconia under the direction of F. W. George.

The court room is 15 feet 3 inches, by 39 feet, 5 inches and 22 feet high, well lighted, having excellent acoustical properties and is in the center of the building. On the first floor are the offices of the register of deeds and the clerk of court and upstairs are those of the register of probate and the county commissioners. The dimensions of the offices on each floor are 23 feet, 9 inches by 15 feet. There is steam heat, electric lights and water forced from a spring by compressed air. Electricity for lighting is generated on the plant. The judges' and lawyers' rooms are also on the first floor.

The building is fireproof. The grand and petit jury rooms are on the second floor, the former 28x22 feet and the latter 27x17 feet. There is a fine basement with cement bottom.

The furniture in the court room is quartered oak, and seventy people can be seated. There are rails in front of the judges' desks. There is a front entrance and two in the rear.

The construction of the interior of the building is of steel and the vaults and gables are of this material. In the basement is a cell for prisoners and a boiler and ash room. The first floor and basement are connected. The building cost $40,000.

CABLE LETTER

Vienna, May 20.—The peace rumors coming from Paris, Oltine and London are discussed extensively by the Austrian and Hungarian press. It is admitted that the Pope is making great efforts to bring about a cessation of hostilities.

Most of the Austrian papers are convinced that peace is impossible until at least one of the Entente powers is decisively defeated and unable to continue the war.

The Zelt says: "Russia is practically out of the war, as far as Europe is concerned, but this plan can never be brought completely to his knees and they hold large German and Austro-Hungarian armories on the eastern front and may do so for years.

"An invasion of England is an impossibility and there is no hope that the British as a power can be smashed. Under these conditions a decision must be forced on the French or the Italian front.

"After a final defeat of France or Italy, England will be ready for peace. There is hardly any doubt that the fall of Verdun or the advance of an Austrian army into northern Italy would end the war.

"The Central Powers must concentrate their efforts in these directions. If the terrible conflict is not to be continued, until all of the belligerents are exhausted."

Word has been received in this city that Rear Admiral Francis H. Delano, U. S. N., retired, and Mrs. Delano, have arrived at Newport and are staying with Frederick H. Payne of that city prior to coming here for the summer.

CREPT THROUGH A CAT HOLE

Worcester Boy Rifled Store Till of Thirty Dollars.

Worcester, May 22.—Mrs. Etta Friedman of 81 Laramie street, reported to the Worcester police on Sunday that some one who crept through the "cat hole" at the store made off with the contents of the till which amounted to $30.

The police secured a description of boys who had been seen near the store and took Peter Czernulowicz into custody in Oxford. The boy, who is ten years old, is small for his age and managed to creep through a hole through which Mrs. Friedman's cat passes when the store is closed.

AWARDED $125

Verdict Rendered Plaintiff in Seabrook False Imprisonment Suit.

William N. Davis of Seabrook was awarded the amount of $125 by the jury in superior court at Exeter on Saturday for an alleged false imprisonment. The verdict was opened Saturday morning.

The case was a culmination of a long neighborhood trouble, regarding fences and the escaping of cattle. James A. Weston of Derry was foreman of the jury, and the counsel for the plaintiff, Eastman, Scammon and Gardner and for the defendant, Sleeper, Brown and Prizel, all of Exeter.

Here's Real Paint

House painting isn't a matter of prejudice—it's a matter of business and common sense.

That's why you ought to make sure what kind of paint your painter is going to use on your job—or what kind of paint you buy from the dealer.

Paint isn't like an apple—you can't tell by looking at it or by biting it—how good or bad it is.

It takes weeks, perhaps months, and maybe a year or more to tell whether it was worth what you paid.

OBSERVES HIS 78TH BIRTHDAY

Rev. David W. Downs, Veteran Pastor of Newfields, Retired Two Years Ago.

Exeter, May 22.—Sunday was the 78th birthday of Rev. David W. Downs of Newfields, who two years ago retired from active preaching in the New Hampshire Methodist Conference, after having completed half a century as a Christian minister.

He was for over 40 years a member of the New Hampshire Methodist conference and also served four years under the presiding elder regime and two years in the west. He entered the conference when Rev. A. K. Manson was presiding elder in 1856, his first pastorate being at Methuen, Mass., but four years later he was assigned to South Newmarket, now Newfields, to which charge he was returned in 1912, and retired from the conference when pastor of the church there which was also one of his earliest pastorates.

Since entering the Christian ministry he has filled many pastorates in New Hampshire towns, being stationed at Newmarket, Epping, Keene, Kingston and others and is well known throughout the state. Rev. Downs began his preaching in 1855 in Wisconsin.

At the breaking out of the war two years later he enlisted in the cavalry going from Massachusetts in a non-attached company, and later was with General Butler during his Louisiana campaign. Later he was with Gen. Banks, being with him when he was discharged for disability. Upon his return to New Hampshire he at once took up his duties as a preacher.

STRUCK BY ELECTRIC CAR

Aged Seabrook Man in Critical Condition at Newburyport Hospital.

Joshua Marshall of Seabrook, aged 60 years, is in a critical condition at the Anna Jaques hospital, Newburyport as the result of being struck by a car on the Plum Island division of the Massachusetts Northeastern road on Sunday.

Marshall was lying near the car track at the long siding on the Plum Island causeway and as the car came along he attempted to get up evidently with the intention of boarding it. He was too near the track however, and was struck by the running board and thrown to the side. He was badly cut and bruised and it is thought injured internally.

fate of the doctor, jammed the court room and overflowed into the corridor when the case was called today.

Mrs. Walte, who arrived after court opened, sat alone in District Attorney Swann's private office. She will not come into the court room it is said, until her presence is required as a witness.

Throughout the examination of witnesses, Dr. Walte sat with his face calm and his manner assured. He did not even blink when one talesman said: "I am opposed to capital punishment, but not in this case." He half smiled as the talesman was excused.

Seven tentative jurors were accepted during the first ninety minutes. They were Robert Neill, mechanical engineer; Peter Hebel, cheese dealer; Thaddeus S. Barlow, superintendent Consolidation Gas Company; Paul D. F. Case, secretary; George Holme, capitalist; James H. Belts, sales manager; Edwin M. Freidlander, broker. At noon the defense had used two preliminary challenges and the state one.

This evening the Morley Button Company and the Portsmouth Athletic Club battle on the South Playground ground for Sunset League honors. Better make it a point to get out and see a good game.

COLLIDED WITH ICE CART

Newburyport Man Thrown From Motorcycle, Lands in Hospital.

George P. Meek of Newburyport, while riding from Salisbury beach Saturday night on a motorcycle, was thrown from the wheel in a collision with an ice cart. The cart was owned by J. A. Stevens of Salisbury and driven by Herbert French.

Meek, who it is said was going at a pretty fast clip, came up behind the cart and smashed into it. He was considerably bruised and scratched up. He was brought to the Newburyport hospital where his condition was reported as being quite satisfactory. Another man riding on the rear seat of the machine was not injured except for a shaking up.

ONE PRISON SENTENCE GIVEN BY JUDGE YOUNG

George Coleman of Boston Goes to Concord for Three Years for Breaking, Entering and Larceny After Pleading Guilty

George Coleman, alias William Redlin, of Boston, Mass., pleaded guilty to two counts of breaking, entering and larceny, in the Superior Court before Judge John Young on Saturday and was sentenced to not more than five nor less than three years in state prison. Coleman's sentence was the only state's prison sentence handed down by Judge Young in this term of the court. Coleman broke into the offices of Dr. William O. Jenkins and Attorney Harold M. Smith in this city several months ago and stole several articles from each of the offices which he pawned. He was arrested twenty months after the discovery of the breaking and entering of Dr. Jenkins and was held for the grand jury.

Harry Ely of Portland and Charles White of Bangor, two young soldiers of fortune, pleaded guilty of breaking, entering and larceny in two counts and their cases were conducted for sentence. They were held for the Massachusetts State Police and an officer will come to this city at 11:45 o'clock this morning; both boys having consented to go with them without the formality of extradition papers. The young men were arrested on January 15 after breaking into a grocery store on Cabot street the night before and into the Elwyn cottage on Elwyn road. Young White and Ely were making their way home over the road from Boston having landed in that port on a cattle steamer from Liverpool, England, on January 5. White was a deserter from the British Army, having been wounded in Flanders where he was a member of the Royal Field Artillery. He is a native of Bangor, Maine, and went to England at the beginning of the war just to see what was going on. After landing there he enlisted in one of the regiments and was sent to the front, where he stayed five months until wounded and was invalided home. In Liverpool he met Ely, who was attached to one of the cattle steamers carrying war horses from this country, and was persuaded to desert and return to this country.

Judge Young held several of the cases for jury trial and this will be heard here within two or three weeks. In each of these cases the alleged offenders pleaded not guilty and were

WANAMAKER AND M'CREERY OUT FOR STEPHENS BILL

New York, May 21.—In answer to claims of opponents that dry goods merchants are generally antagonistic to the standard price system the American Fair Trade League, through its secretary, Edmund A. Whittier, issued a statement today indicating that many of the large department stores of the country are now openly supporting the Stephens-Ashurst bill legalizing uniform price contracts as sound public policy. A copy of a petition containing many signatures was also given out and a list of other merchants supporting the principle of resale price maintenance was furnished. It was said by Mr. Whittier that this list is only the first installment of big stores that are with the American Fair Trade League in its fight for legalized price maintenance and that other lists will follow at frequent intervals.

"More than six months ago," said Secretary Whittier in discussing the present situation, "I gave out for publication a statement in which I made the prediction: 'It will be shown before this campaign is over that only a small minority of the department stores of the country—only the more sensational and irregular merchandising class—is opposed to the Stephens bill. The better element, almost unanimously, appears to be in entire sympathy with the American Fair Trade League's campaign for honest advertising methods.'"

"This prediction is now being verified. Within the past month a large number of big department stores throughout the country have come out in favor of the legalizing of contracts between producers and merchants for the resale of trade marked articles at standard uniform prices. First it, Altman & Co. announced their support in a letter declaring that the Stephens bill should be satisfactory to all retail merchants. Then John Wanamaker personally signed a petition in favor of the measure; James McCreery & Co. and Bloomingdale Brothers, of New York; Lamson Brothers Co., of Toledo; the Strauss-Hirshberg Co., of Youngstown, and others of America's greatest merchants aligned themselves with John Shepard, Jr., the head of Shepard, Norwell, of Boston, and the Shepard Co., of Providence, in support of honest advertising methods.

"For nearly a year the National Retail Dry Goods Association has been active in opposition to the Stephens bill, and has the unenviable distinction of being the only national association of retail merchants opposing this legislation. The list of leading dry goods merchants favoring the Stephens-Ashurst bill we are giving out today, which is the first of a series, conclusively proves that the officers of the N. R. D. G. A. do not represent the leading department stores of the country, and I do not believe that they fairly represent today a majority of their own association. Their assumption of having a united and unanimous organization behind them is now dispelled. Our correspondence indicates that department stores in widely separated sections of the country have tired of being misrepresented and are asking why the N. R. D. G. A. does not confine itself to its valuable technical and cooperative work and avoid taking a course that they regard as being opposed to its best interests."

Mr. Whittier gave out extracts from letters from department stores which he says are significant and show how sentiment is going. Among them are letters from John Shepard, Jr., president of Shepard-Norwell Co., Boston; Peru Mercantile Co., Peru, Ind.; C. H. Yeager & Co., Dayton, Ohio; Win. F. Coleman & Co., Dayton, O.; Zeisel Brothers Co., Elkhart, Ind.; R. H. Mohr, East Orange, N. J.; M. Newhall's Busy Department Store, Cincinnati; C. M. Guggenheimer, Lynchburg, Va.; Sloan Bros., Indiana, Pa.; John J. Carroll, Newark, O.; D. L. Davis Co., Ashland, Ohio; and the Bee Hive Store, Columbus, Ga.

Fiera Field pleaded guilty to adultery; was sentenced to six months, fine of $50.00 and costs; all suspended on condition that she leave the state and not return. Mary Murdock, an appeal case from the Municipal court on a charge of drunkenness six months ago, the case was not proved. Lillian McIntosh pleaded guilty to adultery and was committed to Brentwood for six months. William Silvey of Akron, Ohio, pleaded guilty to adultery and was fined $50.00 and costs, which he paid. Everett Lannigan of Providence, R. I., on the same charge, pleaded guilty and was fined $50.00 and costs, which he paid. Emma Dean of Hamilton, Mass., on the same charge was fined $50.00 and costs, after pleading guilty.

Grace Greenwood pleaded nolo to a charge of maintaining a disorderly house. She was sentenced to six months at Brentwood, suspended on condition that she leave the state not to return.

Frank Morin of Wisconsin pleaded guilty to breaking, entering and larceny. He was fined $100.00 and costs of prosecution and was remanded to Brentwood on non-payment.

Several other Portsmouth cases, the alleged offenders being out on bail, will be heard later in the session as their attorneys were unable to appear at Saturday's session.

WREATH MAKING BEGAN THIS MORNING

LADIES STARTED WORK AT THE COURT HOUSE AND 700 WILL BE MADE BY SATURDAY FOR SOLDIER'S GRAVES

The members of the Women's Relief Corps, assisted by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Camp Schley, United Spanish War Veterans and others started this morning on the work of making 700 wreaths for the Memorial Day exercises a week from tomorrow. It is expected that the work will be finished on Saturday evening, which means that more than one hundred will have to be completed each day.

On Saturday 1000 pounds of evergreen was shipped in to Portsmouth from Greenland to be used for this purpose and the committee is expecting that other ladies will volunteer for the work. Several members of the Portsmouth Women's Christian Temperance Union have offered their services for the work and the offer has been accepted.

In the evening the meeting postponed from last Wednesday will be held at headquarters at 7:30 and many of the arrangements not yet completed will be taken care of at this meeting. Commander M. H. Bell announced last evening that several citizens had offered the use of their automobiles for the veterans and he believes that enough will be in line to take care of all of the G. A. R. members who need them. The detachments from the Army, Navy and National Guard have been arranged for and Commander Bell believes that this year's parade and exercises will surpass any in the history of Storer Post.

NEW NOTE FROM CARRANZA IS EXPECTED THIS WEEK

Washington, May 20.—The State Department was officially advised today that it might expect soon a new note from Carranza regarding the border situation. Indications are that it will be friendly, and it is thought Carranza may propose the framing of a definite understanding along the lines of the unwritten agreement reached by the military conference at El Paso between Gen. Scott, Funston and Obregon.

Should this forecast be borne out the delicate situation created by Carranza's request for withdrawal of the American expedition would be a closed incident.

Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City reported today that the attitude of officials of the Carranza Government had undergone a decided change within the last few days. There were evidences in many quarters, he said, of increasing friendliness toward the United States.

Change Due to Obregon
Officials here believe the change is directly due to Gen. Obregon's report of his discussions with the American chief of staff and border commander. The American officers, succeeded apparently, in overcoming suspicions of the Washington Government's intentions, which the Mexican War Minister entertained when he was sent north for the conference.

Mr. Rodgers reported that Mexican officials now felt that the critical stage resulting from the Columbus raid had passed, and said the tension was greatly relieved in the Carranza capital.

The determination of the Carranza government to re-open diplomatic negotiations for a formal protocol probably explains its delay in instructing

ASQUITH WILL REVIEW SENTENCE OF LYNCH

Washington, Sunday.—Jeremiah C. Lynch will not be punished for his participation in the Dublin revolt until after the Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, has reviewed the sentence imposed by the court-martial.

This information was called to the State Department today by Mr. Page, American Ambassador at London, who reported that he had been so informed by the British Foreign Office. The following is a paraphrase of the Ambassador's dispatch:—

"According to information from the Foreign Office, Lynch's sentence will not be confirmed until after the case has been submitted to the Prime Minister."

It is now considered certain that before the British Prime Minister passes upon this case an opportunity will be given the State Department to review the evidence and to do whatever is possible to obtain for Lynch the full rights to which his American citizenship en-

NO ELECTION AT PRESENT IN DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

Washington, May 20.—Unsettled political conditions in the Dominican Republic caused by the Arlas revolution against the Jimenez Government have forced indefinite postponement of election of a successor to President Jimenez. Rear Admiral Caperton, commanding the American forces in Santo Domingo, reported to the Navy Department today that conditions were such that an election at the present time was not advisable.

A force of 54 Marines from the guard of the battleship Louisiana has been ordered sent to the island. They will probably leave Monday on the cruiser Tennessee, which has been ordered with the cruiser Salem to Dominican waters.

About 400 marines from Haiti also have been ordered to Dominican waters.

Coming to United States.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, May 20.—Dr. Enrique Henriquez, former Minister of Foreign Affairs, has gone to the United States at the request of various political parties to ask that the American armed forces be withdrawn from the republic.

Although quiet prevails in the capital seven of the Dominican provinces have repudiated the authority of the Congress and a numerous body of malcontents, under command of Gen. Desdino Arias, the Minister of War and leader of the rebel forces which recently evacuated Santo Domingo on the demand of the American authorities, is in the mountains near this city.

"RAMONA" AT BOSTON A BIG HIT

The production at the Colonial Theatre, Boston, of the Clune Producing Company's picturization of the famous novel "Ramona" has proved the cinema sensation of the year, and the splendid playhouse has been filled with capacity audiences since the first presentation of Helen Hunt Jackson's love story last Wednesday night. On that occasion the event was marked by the presence of the mayor of the city, and many of the other notables in the civic, educational and religious life of Boston and vicinity, and "Ramona" was proclaimed to be the most vivid, thrilling, and intensely absorbing screenplay yet given to the public. Photographically, it has been stamped by the National Board of Advisors as more nearly perfect in all departments than any film yet shown settlers, in the picturization. It is far and away the most elaborate, convincing and worthy film yet devised and countless thousands who have laughed and cried with the printed pages of Mrs. Jackson's novel, will be even more deeply moved when they see this story visualized.

School-children, educators, priests and pastors and all classes of citizens have already given their endorsement to this wonderful film, and will continue to do so at the Colonial for an indefinite period. During the progress of the picture a symphony orchestra from New York of 30 pieces, plays music especially arranged for this production, while a chorus of trained voices and the Miramba Band of Indian musicians, add to the intense reality of the story.

The prices for this engagement have been made within the reach of all, ranging from 25 cents to $1.50 for all performances, including the daily matinees, with five hundred choice orchestra seats at one dollar.

No Withdrawal Ordered
Sec. of War Baker made it plain today that the withdrawal to Columbus, N. M., of 500 men of the 6th Cavalry, a part of Gen. Pershing's command, is not the beginning of a general exodus of American troops from Mexican soil.

Mr. Baker said he had no official confirmation of the report that the 6th Cavalry had arrived at Columbus. Assuming that the report is correct, however, he said that no orders had been issued to Gen. Funston for the return of these troops.

Gen. Funston continues to be in absolute command on the border," said Mr. Baker. "If he has ordered the 6th Cavalry out he has done so in accordance with his plan of campaign to make the border safe from bandit raids. It is a part of his general plan and what orders he may have issued I do not know. Our orders to him have not been changed."

Sec. Baker said he had no information whatever regarding the report that Col. Sibley and Maj. Langhorne, who crossed the Rio Grande in the Big Bend country, are returning. He said that Gen. Funston also is directing the movements of this column and will direct any similar movement that may be necessary.

War Department officials said today that they regard the shooting of Sergt. Harry Furman by Mexican customs guards as a "closed incident."

DUTCH BEG U. S. TO KEEP PHILIPPINES

HOLLAND GREATLY FEARS AGGRESSION OF JAPANESE AT END OF WAR.

The Hague, Sunday.—"Don't give up the Philippines," is the plea to the United States of Dutch publicists who fear that at the end of the European war the Japanese will attempt to seize the Dutch East Indies. They hope for an alliance with the United States against a Japanese invasion of the possessions of both or either in the east. If there is a definite basis for apprehension among the bankers and governmental officials of Holland it does not appear, but the feeling of uneasiness is obvious.

The editors of the principal Dutch journals believe, however, that the government has information of a design of Japan to take the Dutch East Indies and several of them declare that the movement will be co-ordinated with an invasion of the Western States of America.

Dr. J. J. Van Bolhuis, president of the Journalists' Association of Holland said he believed that the Japanese intended to make trouble in the Far East and that he hoped the United States would join hands with Holland in resisting attempts of seizure of Dutch territory because of the fact that the interests of the two nations were identical in the situation.

Mr. Piemp Van Duveland, editor in chief of The Hague New Current, said Holland was striving to keep clear of the European war, following the example of America, and that the statement of the country would lend a friendly hand.

The peril of possible invasion by Germany and the increasing leadership caused by the English blockade are causes of uneasiness among the Dutch people generally, but feeling against the English is counterbalanced by the torpedoing of the Tubantia by a German submarine. The hope of the leaders of public opinion is that the country shall be able to remain neutral, so it will be prepared to take care of its interests in the East at the war's close.

REPUBLICANS MAKE NO FURTHER ATTEMPT TO AMEND IT

Washington, May 20.—The Administration shipping bill, designed to increase the merchant marine and strengthen the Navy, passed the House today by a vote of 211 to 161, virtually in the form it was introduced.

Republicans voting for the bill were Dillon, South Dakota; Young, and Norton, North Dakota; Moss, West Virginia; Cary, Wisconsin; Miller, and Parr, Pennsylvania; Mooney, Ohio, and James, Michigan; Progressives, Martin, Louisiana; Nolan, California, and Schall, Minnesota. Two Democrats, Olney of Massachusetts and Hayden of Texas, voted against the bill, and Kent

The bill proposes to appropriate $50,000,000 to be raised by Panama bonds, for the purchase, charter or lease of ships by the Government. These ships would be sold or leased to private capital as rapidly as possible, with the Government reserving the right to call them back into service as naval auxiliaries. The operation of such vessels as the Government is unable to lease or sell must not extend beyond five years after the close of the European war.

A shipping board of five members, empowered to prevent rate discrimination and unfair practices by all ships plying American waters and to fix maximum rates, would be created. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Republicans, who yesterday delayed the vote by offering more than 100 amendments, made no further attempt to amend the measure. Democratic leader Kilglin and others who opposed the bill last year were won to its support by the clause limiting Government operation of ships to five years after the close of the war.

TRAVEL BY PARCEL POST

Englishman Sent Himself by Mail to Out of the Way Street.

Though our parcel post is a wonderful system, enabling us to send all kinds of strange things by mail, the English system can do one thing which we have, as yet, not attempted.

An Englishman who was in a hurry to reach a part of London with which he was unfamiliar, called at the general postoffice to consult a directory.

Upon explaining his case, the clerk gave him the information that he could go by parcel post for the payment of 6 cents a mile.

He was accordingly placed in charge of a messenger, who took him to his destination. The boy carried a printed slip on which was written "Article required to be delivered," with a description of the parcel following—Popular Science Monthly.

CIGARETTE MEN DINE IN BOSTON

A dinner, unique in the annals of Boston which harbors many elaborate and well planned dinners in the course of a year, was held Saturday night at the Hotel Georgian, Boston, Mass. The dinner was arranged by Mr. Ernest J. Goulston as a "get-together" affair for all those concerned in the current advertising campaign of Egyptian Straight Cigarettes.

Several of the executives from the head offices of the American Tobacco Company in New York City came over specially to attend the dinner, including Vice President George W. Hill in charge of Cigarette Sales, Vice President W. H. O'Brien in charge of Cigarette Manufacturing, Messrs. Charles Skinner, E. A. Harvey and Sol Bornstein.

Mr. R. L. Armstrong, Director of New England Sales, Messrs. T. P. Cannon, M. A. Early and A. H. Boyd, District Supervisors, also attended.

The table, shaped in the form of a diamond was adorned in the center with a sunken garden. Trollicked over the table were large imitation cigarettes, entwined with ferns from which were suspended on ribbons cigarette boxes of every brand made by The American Tobacco Company.

The entertainment was arranged between each course. Two large sized cigarettes gave an imaginary conversation.

Mr. Mahlan, one of the Cigarette Salesmen, entertained as a messenger boy and brought in a present for Mr. Hill in the form of a box of Straight cigarettes of heroic size, from which a young lady presently stepped and danced. Mr. Barry, another Cigarette Salesman, impersonated the ghost of "Old" Dutch Cleanser who arrived on the scene with the Gold Dust Twins, having made an inspection of the Straight factory in New York City, finding nothing that needed cleaning. Mr. Goulston concluded the specially arranged part of the evening's entertainment by rendering an original poem entitled, "A Reverie."

Mr. J. Bait of the Goulston Adver-ting Agency acted as toastmaster.

Speeches were made by Messrs. George Hill, Goulston, Armstrong, Early, Cannon, Lloyd, Harvey and Bornstein. The dinner concluded with professional entertainment.

STRANGE CONFUSION

Mr. Sylvester Seems to Credit Jocelyn With the Words of Washington.

Mr. Herbert Milton Sylvester has apparently fallen into a strange confusion in one of his volumes on "Maine Pioneer Settlements," (vol. 10) in which he relates a story of Mr. Henry Jocelyn, and which in fact is based on an entirely different matter.

Under the subject of "Old Kitterie" in the above volume, devoted to "Old York," and writing of Jocelyn, (page 261) Mr. Sylvester says:

"He was a notorious Nimrod and frequented Kitterie more or less. He went a-fishing down the harbor and out upon the fishing grounds once surely. He says, 'During times we proceeded to the fishing banks without the harbor and fished for cod, but it not being the proper time of tide we caught but two.' He was at that time president of the province. Considering his wonderful adventures in Casco Bay with Michael Milton, with the Indians and merman so familiar, he must have considered the sport at Piscataqua rather uneventful."

Mr. Sylvester, here, of course, made a mistake in this particular. Mr. Jocelyn may have fished in the harbor, and more than once, and probably did, but he left no such record of the fishing as quoted by Mr. Sylvester. Nor is it just correct to say that he "was president of the province."

Judge Shaw of Kitterie who is collecting material for a new history of Kitterie, says that the quotation credited to Jocelyn is really a part of the entry in Washington's diary. In relation to the visit of the President to Portsmouth and Kitterie in 1759.

As evidence of Mr. Sylvester's mix-up, Judge Shaw refers to Mr. Brewster's "Randoms About Portsmouth," page 253, (first volume), and the entry under date of "Monday, 24" which in this respect reads:

"On my way to the mouth of the harbor, I stopped at a place called Kitterie, in the Province of Maine, the river Piscataqua being the boundary between New Hampshire and N. H. From hence I went by the old fort, (formerly built while under the British government) on an island which is at the entrance of the harbor and where the lighthouse stands. As we passed this fort were saluted by thirteen guns."

And now note particularly what Washington says: "Having lines, we proceeded to the fishing banks, a little without the harbor, and fished for cod, but it not being of proper time of tide, we only caught two,—with which, about ten o'clock, we returned to town."

A very possible and plausible explanation of this error may be that Mr. Sylvester wrote out this quotation, and credited it to "the President," and then in getting to the description of "the President of the province," probably hastily compiled this sketch of Jocelyn.

Mr. Sylvester's interesting volumes have attracted much attention among the local folks versed in history. Unfortunately, there has been considerable disappointment in the work. It is quite fantastic, especially the drawings. Some of them must be considered as crude. If not misleading. For instance, in a sketch of the old Popperell Mansion at Kitterie Point, the electric railway tracks are drawn as running directly down to the water, rather than passing the side of the house.

Mr. Hazlett has recently purchased the five volumes for the Portsmouth library. Mr. Hazlett, who advises accuracy above all things, in historical matters, is not just satisfied with the work. But the books are well worth reading, and are an entertaining and valuable addition to local historical studies. They fill the high places, and have an appreciation of most things well worth while.

GOD SELECTING SAINTLY JEWELS

Many Experiences of Cutting and Polishing Necessary.

Humility and Meekness Essential Qualities—Patience and Gentleness Also Invaluable—God's Faithfulness Beyond Question—Communion of the Saints—God's Book of Remembrance. His Name Stands For His Character. Church to Be His Glorious Diadem.

PASTOR RUSSELL

May 21.—Pastor Russell gave a very impressive address from the text Malachi 3:10, 17—"They that feared the Lord spoke often one to another, and the Lord hearkened and heard it; and a book of remembrance was written before Him for them that feared the Lord, that they should not be forgotten."

Humility, the speaker said, is a very important trait of character, especially in the Christian. Meekness, gentleness and patience are also essential in those who would be used in the Lord's service. All mankind have imperfections; and therefore the follower of Christ should fight a good fight with the weaknesses of his flesh. But as he puts himself in line with the Divine will, the Lord by His providences will help His struggling child.

For instance, it may be that the Christian lacks meekness or gentleness or patience. He may have too high an estimate of himself; he may be rude, may speak and act unkindly, may be impatient with others. The Lord would therefore give him trying experiences along these lines to show him his need of these essential qualities and to give him an opportunity to develop them. He might have tests of love for the brethren, for his own family, for his neighbors. The Lord might even hide His face from such a one for a season, to test his love for His Heavenly Father. But all such experiences "work together for good to them that love God, to the called according to His purpose." This class are those who are desirous above everything else of becoming copies of God's dear Son. With these the Lord is now dealing.

This testing and developing of character begins when the Christian is spirit-begotten; and ends when he dies. But since one cannot be sure that he is an overcomer until the end of his sojourn in the flesh, he must "walk by faith." He may have "full assurance of faith," confidence in God. He has entered into a covenant with God. (Psalm 65:5.) He has given his time, his strength, his talents—everything that he possesses—to the Heavenly Father, who has given him in exchange the begetting of the Holy Spirit, His providential care, and His exceeding great and precious promises respecting the future—all through Christ Jesus.

God's Dealings With His Saints.

Whoever would be an overcomer must study his own character and see to it that he develops the character of Christ. He must watch himself continually—what he does, what he says, what he thinks, how he spends his time, etc. If he has a proper love for the Heavenly Bridegroom, a proper appreciation of what Christ has done for him, he will not find this work with himself a hardship; for it keeps before his mind thoughts of God, of Christ and of the glorious things in reservation for those who love Him supremely.

Those who are thus exercised are the class mentioned in our text as those that loved the Lord and spoke often to one another. They speak to one another in Bible studies, in prayer meetings, at the Sunday services, in their homes. (Hebrews 10:25.) The text declares that "the Lord hearkened and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before Him of them that thought upon His name." The thought thus expressed is that God does not forget this class who earnestly endeavor to please Him, but that He loves them. While He loves the world, He has a special love for those who have consecrated themselves to Him during this present time. To these the Master said, "The Father Himself loveth you."—John 16:27.

This book of remembrance was kept for those that thought upon God's name. In olden times the name stood for the character. Now we give names too often at random. Frequently a noble name is borne by an ignoble character. But in olden times the name fitted the one who bore it. For instance, our Lord's name was Jesus, because He was to save His people from their sins. God's name stands for His glorious character. To many His name stands for One who is to be feared because of His mighty power, for One who will consign the wicked to the Devil. But with the children of God this is not so. They have seen something of the lengths, breadths, heights and depths of the Divine character, and they long to know more. They are cutting and polishing now, to be mounted in the First Resurrection. Then they shall be a Royal Diadem in the hand of their God.

WREN-WEIRICH.

Brooklyn Couple Recently Married in This City.

Numerous and hearty congratulations are being extended to the newly made bride and groom. William Wren of Brooklyn and Miss Mary Weirich of the same city, who were married in this city recently by Rev. D. Alex Sullivan, D. D., at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Mr. Wren is a chief carpenter in the navy and at present attached to the U. S. S. Washington. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wren have made hosts of friends since taking up a residence in Portsmouth and were recently entertained by a large party of navy people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Connor on Gardner street.

OLYMPIA THEATRE

High Class Features!

For Monday and Tuesday
We offer another all feature bill with Mary Pickford as a headliner.

Daniel Frohman presents Mary Pickford, the favorite of both continents, in

"RAGS"

A Paramount picture in 5 parts. The picture that you have read so much about. Will be shown at 2.45, 7.00 and 9.20.

Triangle presents Frank Mills in THE MORAL FABRIC in 5 reels. Marriage, its restrictions and liberties, is the basis of a corking Triangle play. One man believes that the heart should be followed wherever it calls, and he practices what he preaches until a rival captures the heart of his wife. Then it's a different story. Every married couple will heartily appreciate this play on the oldest of questions.

A VILLAGE VAMPIRE
is a screaming Keystone comedy in two reels.

Wednesday and Thursday
William Fox presents
THEDA BARA
THE SERPENT
TWO DAYS ONLY.

WHY NOT HAVE PREPAREDNESS TURNOUT JULY 4

No Better Date for a Patriotic Parade and No Better Way of Celebrating.

Every city of any importance is getting in line for a demonstration of preparedness. Portsmouth should be the first in New Hampshire to have a patriotic turnout. Why not this parade on July 4th. No better day can be selected to show our patriotic feeling.

This city, rich in army and navy history and one of the homes of both these branches of Uncle Sam's service could produce something as good as any city of its size in this country. At present there is much talk of a public celebration on this date, so why not make it a preparedness turnout. A live committee can bring this about and if successful, such an affair would bring thousands of people into Portsmouth. In fact, the historic old City by the Sea would be crowded.

Why not appoint a committee from the several organizations to boost the affair and make arrangements. Every social and secret organization would no doubt participate and the only expense of any consequence would be for music, the flags carried in line, and perhaps a few floats of patriotic display.

Portsmouth has already been on the map on big parades and patriotic displays and why not another on July 4. Of all public celebrations this would require the least work on the part of a citizens' committee as the affair would practically carry itself. Let's put on a little speed and show the people how the old historic town stands in time of peace and what she is ready to do if the call should come for her to share in defense of the flag.

WILLIAMS FALLS FROM MOVING CAR

North Hampton Man at Hospital With Injuries.

Irving Williams, aged 26 and a resident of North Hampton, a passenger on the 10.05 a. m. car from Market Square on Saturday night, is at the Portsmouth hospital suffering from a fracture of the left wrist and cuts and bruises of the face as a result of a fall from a car of the Portsmouth Electric railway.

The accident occurred near Trethorn's Corner and nobody can be found who saw Williams disappear from the rear vestibule where he was standing and it was some time before he was missed.

The car was moved back and Williams picked up and brought to Portsmouth in the automobile of D. H. McIntosh.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE.

Dwyer-Quill Wedding Took Place This Morning.

The marriage of Edward J. Dwyer and Miss Catherine Quill took place at 9 o'clock this morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. A large number of relatives and friends witnessed the marriage ceremony which was performed by Rev. D. Alex Sullivan, D. D., followed by a nuptial high mass.

The bride was dressed in white, surge with white picture hat. She was attended by Mrs. Michael Cronin who wore a green suit with hat to match. The best man was Thomas Condon.

Following the wedding the guests and bride party repaired to the future home of the couple, 21 Humphrey Court where an excellently prepared menu consisting of chicken and lobster salad, cold meats, olives, celery, rolls, assorted cake, ice cream and coffee was served.

Many costly articles of linen, cut glass, silver and furniture were on exhibition at the home as gifts from the numerous friends of the bride and groom.

In the exchange of gifts the groom gave the bride a gold wrist watch and bracelet, and the groom received a gold chain and emblem chain from the bride.

The bride presented the bridesmaid with a gold chain and cross and the best man received cuff links from the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer left on the afternoon train for a honeymoon of ten days in New York.

They are both well known and popular with a wide circle of friends and acquaintances who wish them much happiness in their wedded life.

BADLY BURNED AT NAVY YARD

Two Workmen Injured in the Smelting Plant Saturday.

James D. Brooks of 67 Gale street, and E. O. Fernald of Elliot, two employees of the smelting plant at the navy yard, were severely burned on Saturday afternoon while preparing some metal for pouring. Some cause led to the explosion of the heated ore and it flew in all directions. Brooks sustained burns on the head, face, both arms, left leg and back.

Fernald's injuries consisted of burns on the right hand, face and neck.

Both men were removed to the yard dispensary where the yard medical force rendered first aid and were later sent to their homes in the government ambulance in care of some of the hospital corps.

GIRLS' CLUB NOTES

The one topic of conversation just at present is the convention at Pittsfield, Mass., which opens on May 31 and ends June 1. This club is to be represented by Miss Esther Slosberg, who will act as the official delegate and who will cast the club's vote for the officers of the National League of Women Workers. There will probably be around four hundred visiting delegates who will enjoy the beauties of the Berkshire Hills. The time of year is ideal for such a trip, and it is unfortunate that more girls from this club cannot attend. Mrs. Florence Harris and Miss Goodwin are to go with Miss Slosberg.

Tonight Mrs. Bragdon will entertain the dancing class. Each member is urged to invite a gentleman friend. A good time is in store for the girls and their guests. Light refreshments will be served. This is the last class for the year and all other club activities end in June.

Luncheon will be served on Tuesday, as usual.

Wednesday evening the club will conduct one of the invitation dances which will be held in Pierce hall. Dancing from 8 to 12. Invitations may be had from Miss Slosberg or Miss Goodwin. The dance held in the Annex last week was much enjoyed and it is hoped that this dance will be just as successful.

The last business meeting of the year has been postponed for one week and will be held on Thursday evening, June 8. At that time reports will be given on the convention by the delegates and plans will be made for the moonlight picnic.

STRIKE MAY END SOON

But Neither Railroad Officials or Trackmen Will Make Positive Statement.

A rumor was circulated Saturday to the effect that the striking way employees of the Boston & Maine railroad would return to work today.

It was impossible to obtain a positive statement one way or the other from either local strikers or railroad officials.

Railroad men approached on the subject were non-committal and merely asserted that there was "nothing new." Individual way strikers expressed the belief that the strike was still far from settlement, and said they had not been notified to go to work. They added their belief that the men will remain out until their demands for a 20 cent increase have been met.

SOUTH ELIOT.

A large congregation attended the service in the Methodist church last evening. Rev. William M. Forgrave delivered the address. A violin duet was well rendered by Mr. Cyrus Bartlett and daughter, Cornelia; also a solo by Mr. Ernest Wood. At the close of the service an altar service was held at which several commenced the Christian life. The special meetings will be continued throughout this week. Every evening at 7.30, except Saturday. Rev. Percy W. Cuswell will be the speaker tonight. Public invited.

BOXING TONIGHT.

The Rockingham A. C. has a big attraction for tonight. The bill is as follows: Young Tewart vs. Young Kuske; Eddie Flynn vs. Joe Stark; Al Nelson vs. Karl Hertz. A big crowd of fans will be on hand as this looks like the best show the club has yet offered.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all those who assisted us in our recent bereavement, and also for the beautiful floral tributes.

STEIN-BLOCH "SMART CLOTHES"

"Look for the Label."

The label "Stein-Bloch" on a coat means something. There are clothes at lower prices—clothes that appear to be equally well tailored and of equally good materials. But experience—the best of teachers—shows that there are no clothes that in the long run are so economical. Superior tailoring accounts for the longevity of this make as compared with others. This label is "good as a gold bond." Look for it.
